

Huawei Dominic makes pack batteries

Does Huawei make batteries?

Even though Huawei doesn't manufacture batteries, the company is putting plenty of R&D resources into developing a new solid-state battery tech. The newest patent reveals a battery pack that can go for 1,860 miles away from the plug and fully charge in just five minutes. This is perhaps one of the craziest technologies we've heard so far.

What is Huawei's big battery breakthrough?

Huawei's huge battery breakthrough! New solid state tech promises massive range and miniscule charging times. Smartphone giant and EV investor Huawei has challenged CATL and BYD's supremacy by inventing a pioneering new battery that blends an incredible range of up to 3000km with a charging time of just five minutes.

Is Huawei developing a solid-state battery?

According to the patent, Huawei is developing a solid-state battery architecture with an energy density between 400 and 500 Wh/kg--reportedly three times higher than that of conventional lithium-ion cells used in today's electric vehicles.

Could Huawei's new battery technology make EVs go further?

Huawei has developed solid-state battery tech that could make EVs go further and charge faster. Cells have triple the energy-density of li-ion ones and could theoretically give an 1,800-mile range. Chinese patent application says the new battery pack could be fully recharged in only five minutes.

What is Huawei's new EV battery?

Smartphone giant and EV investor Huawei has challenged CATL and BYD's supremacy by inventing a pioneering new battery that blends an incredible range of up to 3000km with a charging time of just five minutes.

Does Huawei have a sulfide battery?

Huawei has filed a patent detailing a sulfide-based solid-state battery design with energy densities between 180 and 225 Wh/lb, roughly two to three times higher than today's typical electric vehicle batteries.
