Are portable power stations expensive?

Updated June 2025: We've added a Bluetti model, honorable mentions from EcoFlow and Acer, and a testing and FAQ section. Portable power stations can be very expensive, but discounts, sales, and deals are common. If you can afford to wait, you can likely get your chosen power station for less than the listed MSRP.

What is the best portable power station?

The Jackery Explorer 1500 Portable Power Station is our recommendation for the overall best portable power station. With a large battery capacity that can power a television for 21 hours and a variety of outlets and ports, it's suitable for home emergencies, camping, and job site use.

Should you buy a portable power station?

The term "portable" is stretching it sometimes. Batteries are heavy. The larger-capacity power stations are typically on wheels and have telescopic handles, and they are still tough to cart around. If you're looking for something you can actually carry on foot for a distance, you may need to temper your expectations on capacity.

What can a portable power station charge?

All portable power stations can charge up small gadgets like phones and laptops or be used to power lighting. Most can handle small appliances like mini-fridges or TVs. If you want to use power tools, an AC unit, or in the UK, a kettle, you need to be able to draw thousands of watts.

Should you buy a power brick or a portable power station?

Small power bricks have enough juice to charge your phone a few times, while a cooler-sized portable power station can keep vital electronics running during a power outage or camping trip, and the most powerful options will provide electricity to your entire house.

Can you take a portable power station camping?

You can take any good portable power station camping and get good use out of it, as long as you don't mind closely monitoring your power usage. The difference with the Jackery Solar Generator 1000 is that it comes with two of Jackery's powerful SolarSaga 100X solar panels that can charge the battery in about eight hours.
