Are DIY sunroom kits better than professional sunroom installation?

DIY sunroom kits are great for experienced craftsmen, but it's important to understand that screened porch kits do not have as many customizable options as our professionally installed sunrooms. Learn more about DIY Sunroom Kits vs. Professional Sunroom Installation. Order a Sample Kit

How much does a sunroom cost?

The best size for your sunroom depends on how much space you not only have and how much you want to pay. The average cost of a sunroom per foot runs from $80 to $400, according to Forbes, and it varies depending on if it's a three-season or four-season room. Typically, sunrooms vary in size from 10 by 20 feet to 16 by 24 feet.

Where can I buy sunroom kits online?

Fifthroom offers kits for sunrooms online that you can either put together yourself or hire a local handyman or contractor to build it for you. The kits cost less than traditional sunrooms and are great for those not looking to spend as much or those not looking to add on to their home permanently.

Can you build your own sunroom?

You can even find build-your-own sunroom kits if you're especially handy. While three-season sunrooms are built using an existing roof or porch cover onto an existing deck or patio, if you're looking to use your sunroom all year, you'll need an HVAC system, insulation, and some foundation work.

What is a modular sunroom kit?

This 'do it yourself' Modular Sunroom kit is classified as a "materials supplied" kit. Finally, for those of you who want to create a four season space on your existing deck or patio slab, we offer a modular sunroom system that the average homeowner can actually assemble themselves!

Why should you choose a custom-built sunroom?
